

Editor's Notes from Jean Smith

Decisions, decisions! I'm not as decisive as I used to be. Once upon a time I would decide on a plan of action and stick to it. Now I find myself wondering 'Should I or shouldn't I'. Sometimes it's a trifling matter – will I have a boiled egg or a poached egg for breakfast, or that slightly more important matter, what am I going to wear. U3A members will understand my dilemmas. I am sure my indecisiveness has been exacerbated by COVID and its impact on our day-to-day lives. As I write this, we are still in lockdown. The outlook for the immediate future is looking uncertain, and a long-planned trip to Melbourne next month is looking more and more unlikely. None of this is good for my mental well-being. However, U3A is coming to my rescue. Barring an absolute catastrophe – such as, heaven forbid, the total collapse of the internet – Term 3 Zoom classes will begin again on July 12. How lovely to have that certainty, and let's hope Face-to-Face isn't far behind.

President's Message from Des Taylor

Hello all.

Change in Term Dates

Just when we thought restrictions were easing we find them back in place.

Qld. Government restrictions in place until the 16th July require our occupant density to be limited for the next two weeks.

This means that U3A Brisbane cannot open Face to Face classes until the 19th July.

(This is dependent on a change from 1 person per 4 sq m back to 1 person per 2 sq m at that time and this would continue for Term 3)

We must therefore change the Term dates for Face to Face classes only .

Start 19th July – 24th September

(This is still a 10 week term)

Zoom classes can proceed as per the current term timetable from 12th July to 17th September.

You should carry a mask with you at all times and follow current health advice in regard to wearing it. We encourage all members to get vaccinated if you have not yet done so.

Check in Qld app

The Check in Qld app is now compulsory at U3A and most public venues. Please make sure you have installed it on your Mobile Phone.

- Sign in with the Check in Qld app as you enter any U3A venue. At City Campus (Creek St. and Adelaide St.) a staff volunteer will check that you have done this before entry.
- If you are at City Campus and don't have a Smart Phone then you must report immediately to the office desk and give them your U3A number and surname. They will enter your details into the Business version of the Check in Qld App for you. (Name, Phone number, Email or Home Address).

Remember: You will still need to sign in with the U3A QR Code in class to register your attendance.

Fire Evacuation from Adelaide St

We recently had our first Emergency Evacuation this year from Adelaide St. Fortunately, this was a false alarm but we have updated our evacuation procedures to ensure that we have addressed some issues that became evident. We would ask all members to read the Emergency evacuation procedure carefully. It will be explained in the first week of Term 3 and you will have the opportunity to ask questions.

It is quite rare to actually have to participate in an Emergency Evacuation or a 'Fire Drill' as we sometimes think of it. However, it is very important that these are taken seriously. All class members must stay with their tutor until they reach Anzac Square and we have checked that all have safely left the building. If we find someone missing, then their names are given to the Fire Department. In a real emergency this could result in one of the fire crew rushing back into a dangerous situation and perhaps being hurt. This would be a terrible result if the member concerned had simply wandered off to a coffee shop.

Any member who has any sort of disability or mobility problem and cannot manage the stairs should remain on Level 5 with one of our Fire Wardens who will contact the Fire Brigade on our Emergency phone to alert them of the situation.

Classes

Remember to check your Member Dashboard to ensure that you are enrolled in the correct classes before you pay your class fees. Check the day and time. It is also really important that you do not arrive any earlier than 15 minutes before the official class starting time to allow the departure of previous classes and to avoid congestion.

I wish you all the best for Term 3. Enjoy your classes.

Stay safe.

Special Online Presentations in July from Marilyn Wagland

Tuesday 20 July, 11.30 - 12.30 pm. Kobe Steele. Orangutan Foundation International Australia

Kobe Steele, Founder and President of Orangutan Foundation International Australia, is a one-woman powerhouse of passion and purpose, an articulate campaigner and orangutan advocate who tirelessly fundraises to protect what is left of the ancient rainforests of Borneo. She has made it her mission to ensure a home for orangutans and other endangered species, helping to raise over $2 million to buy up and save critical orangutan habitat from the onslaught of the palm oil industry.

Kobe will speak about the work of the Foundation and the devastation caused by the palm oil industry in Borneo. The situation facing the rainforests in Borneo is dire. They are the oldest in the world and considered, along with the rainforests of the Amazon, the lungs of the Earth. More than 80% have already been wiped out through deforestation.

Wednesday 21 July, 2.00 - 3.30pm. Associate Professor Mark Blaskovich. SUPERBUGS vs SUPERDRUGS

Mark is an 'antibiotic hunter', based at the University of Queensland, where he is Director of the Centre for Superbug Solutions. A medicinal chemist who worked for 15 years in three biotech companies prior to his academic career, he has been developing new antibiotics to treat drug-resistant pathogens and using modified antibiotics to detect bacterial infections.

Antibiotics save millions of lives every year and underpin the modern medical system. However, their viability is being threatened by the rise of 'superbugs', bacteria that are able to survive treatment with antibiotics. This talk will give an overview of the dangers posed by drug-resistant infections and some different ways solutions are being sought. These include searching for new antibiotics, developing antibiotic alternatives and improving our ability to detect infections.

In these trying and uncertain times I am pleased to advise that we have four new tutors offering classes in Term 3. I would ask that members look at all new classes and support the tutors, because if they do not receive adequate enrolments the classes will be cancelled. and we lose a valuable tutor.

Our New Tutors' classes are:

Tuesday - Y06 Philosophy – Thinking About the Future.

William Grey, the tutor, studied Philosophy at ANU & Cambridge and taught at the University of Queensland. Definitely a thought-provoking and interesting class.

Thursday – X17 Women and the Law

Tutor Susan Currie has worked as a lawyer, tribunal member, academic and teacher. She is the author of a number of published books on Law. The course will examine women's equality and the law. This is not just a woman's issue - the focus will be discussing how the system can be improved and how we can assist.

Thursday - A21 Exploring Art through Colour and Meditation

Tutor Kim MacKenzie has been a pastel artist for over 30 years. Her artworks have been published on American and Australasian book, magazine and CD/DVD covers. A new creative visualization course that explores the properties of colour through meditation and art.

Tutor John Mangan is Professor Emeritus, University of Queensland, Faculty of Business, Economics and Law.

Remembering Ventris Williscroft

from Susan Treloar, U3A Latin Tutor

Sadly, I've just been informed of the passing last week of one of my stalwart and very conscientious Latin students, Ventris Williscroft. I think Ventris' only missed classes were at the end of this term. She loved Latin and fully engaged with its joys and challenges. Her diligence was impressive, not only in working ahead in the texts, but prior to the pandemic, travelling to and from Bribie Island for class each week. Ventris was a generous and kind person and I believe had led an adventurous life. This being her 5th year in our class, we had become very fond of her. Her loss is deeply felt.

U3A Network Qld State Conference 2021

from Gretchen Bernet-Ward

An advocate of lifelong learning, I am surprised it took me so long to join U3A. I signed up for Art History online and Creative Writing in Adelaide Street, simultaneously entering the 'Nature' photography competition and booking a place at the U3A Stanthorpe Conference. On arrival, QR scanned and 'handsand', I collected my name tag and goodies bag. With smiles all round, attendees also received a specially handcrafted mosaic tile. May in Stanthorpe didn't feel cold, the autumn colours providing a lovely backdrop to meeting like-minded people, listening to guest speakers, engaging in robust copyright discussions and tapping along to live ukulele tunes while observing Covid-19 social distancing – sort of. Lunch was served in individual takeaway portions and large baskets held delicious local fruit. U3A Toowoomba President Rhonda Weston gave an 'Information and Report' from AIUTA and it was an excellent induction for new members. Day Two started with a crisp morning visit to the Regional Art Gallery. The Stanthorpe Conference offered me an enjoyable way to compare notes and absorb the U3A ethos. Indeed the 'Coolest' conference.

Wynnum News

from Chris Hobbs

Wynnum Library has now approved up to 35 people in their meeting rooms. Tutors who may want to, can expand their classes. The Penmanship class is planning to do just that gradually over the next few months.

Wynnum Croquet Club is looking to expand so is offering a new Beginners class starting 15 July. See our website for details. Tuition and equipment are provided; the cost is $10 per class.

Remembering Veronica Burns

Veronica was born in Mareeba, North Queensland on 8th September 1938, the second of seven children of Arthur and Beda Burns. The family moved to Cairns in 1951 where Veronica completed her secondary education. Veronica's first trip overseas was to attend the Rome Olympics in 1960 and then to travel around Europe before establishing herself first in London and then in Paris.

Veronica returned to Australia in 1962 where she worked with Parkes Developments in Sydney for a few years before joining the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. Postings in Paris, Ireland, Brazil, Venezuela, Mexico, Egypt, were followed by several years on the audit team. After "retiring" from the Department, Veronica then secured a locally-engaged position at the Australian Embassy in Paris from which she again retired in 2004 and returned to Australia to settle on Chevron Island. Veronica sustained strong interests in music, languages, art, and philosophy. Though she lived many years abroad, Veronica maintained strong connections with family and friends. She is mourned by two sisters and two brothers, nieces, nephews, grand nieces and grand nephews, former colleagues and friends.
